University of Oklahoma Salutes Lincoln, Nebraska and The University of Nebraska

Lincoln was a village of only thirty residents when it was named Nebraska's capital city in 1867. Today, over 100 years since its founding, Lincoln has grown to be the second largest city in Nebraska and the home of the Big Eight's other Big Red.

The village, originally called Lancaster, was later renamed in honor of President Abraham Lincoln. The city of Lincoln has since grown to be one of the educational and cultural centers of the Midwest in addition to being the seat of Nebraska's state government. Its skyline is dominated by the State Capitol Building, which has been called "one of the architectural wonders of the world."

As the educational center of Nebraska, Lincoln is the home of the University of Nebraska and its nationally-known Cornhusker football teams, two private colleges and eight business schools. The younger citizen of Lincoln is not forgotten, either.

with 35 public elementary schools and 17 public secondary schools.

Lincoln's economic strength is reflected in many ways. More than 30 firms have located new plants in Lincoln since 1960. Businesses are attracted to Lincoln because of its well-educated and productive labor force, the center-of-the-nation location and the excellent transportation system.

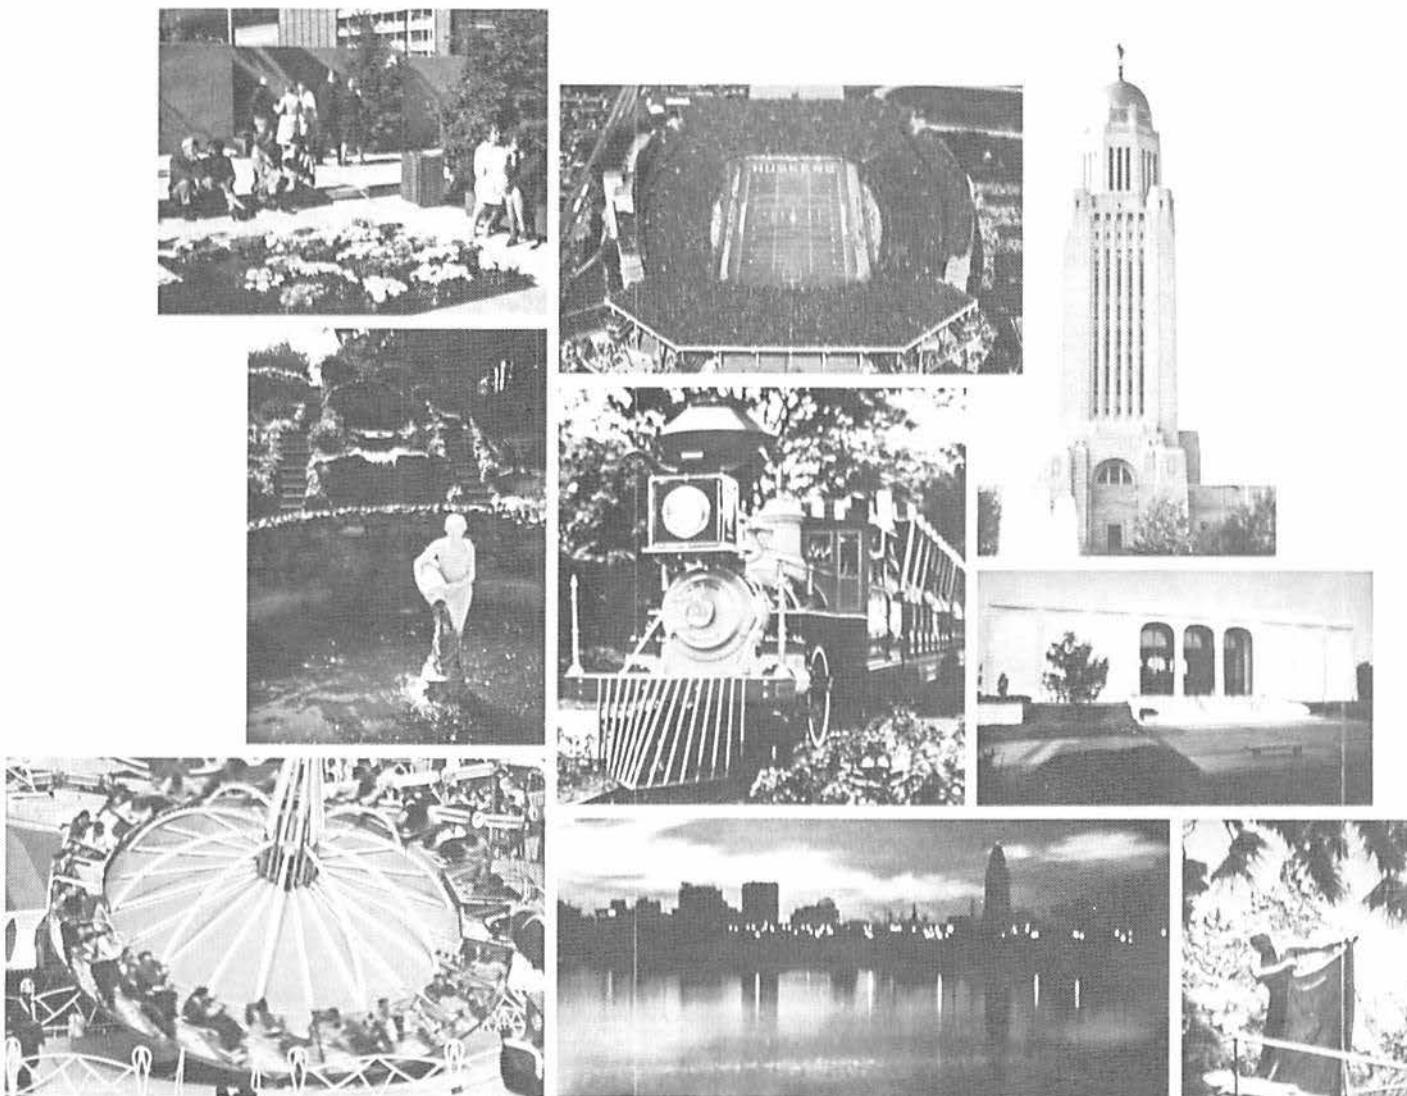

Lincoln has become a major grain storage area with facilities to store over 48 million bushels of grain. Area farmers produce corn, wheat, soybeans and sorghum. Beef processing plants are also kept busy. Nebraska ranks first in the nation in cattle slaughter, alfalfa meal production and great northern bean production.

In addition, limestone, sand, gravel, brick and cement manufacturing plants are found in Lincoln and its surrounding communities.

Lincoln offers some of the best cultural opportunities in its region. There are two museums, a planetarium and two art galleries. One of the finest children's zoos in the nation, Folsom Children's Zoo and Botanical Garden, is located in Lincoln. Other places to visit include the Ager Memorial Zoo, home of a large collection of tropical birds and a variety of reptiles; the nationally-acclaimed Sunken Gardens and the Sports Complex, a $14 million complex, housing a main arena, swimming and diving pools, an indoor track, five tennis courts and gymnastics and wrestling facilities.

Lincoln also holds a long list of distinguished citizens, including politician William Jennings Bryan, World War I Gen. John J. Pershing and author Willa Cather.

Lincoln is a fun place to visit because it has something to offer for everyone. With its ever expanding economic base, Lincoln continues to grow and prosper.

“Let Jesus Christ be your Coach in the game of life . . .”

J. C. WATTS: I recall an incident I witnessed once. I saw some small guys playing football, and the game wasn't going the way one of the players wanted it to go so he dropped out of the game. The other guys went right on playing without him. The dropout noticed all the fun and enjoyment the other guys were having, and he got back in the game. This incident reminded me so much of the game of life. So many people think the game of life will come to a halt without them in it. How wrong they are! You see, one monkey don't stop the show of Jesus Christ. Besides, we need HIM — He doesn't need us! Let Jesus Christ be your Coach and get in the game of life.

JAY JIMERSON: Having been reared in a Christian home and been around athletes all my life, I guess it was only natural that the Fellowship of Christian Athletes become a meaningful part of my life. Some of the greatest spiritual experiences I have had in the past occurred while attending FCA Summer Conferences. According to the Bible, we are not to remain babes in Christ but to grow spiritually as we do physically. The FCA, as an arm of the church, is a tremendous way for young men and women to grow spiritually.

DON JIMERSON: Our top priority should be our personal relationship with Jesus Christ. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has been a tremendous help to me personally and to our family in maintaining this relationship. It provides us an opportunity to mature spiritually, a platform to tell others the "good news" and an opportunity to have fellowship with others of like beliefs and similar problems. No matter how hard we work in athletics, it only gives us a chance to win. I KNOW if I study the rules set forth in the Holy Bible and live by them, I am going to win in the game of life.

FCA PURPOSES

"To present to athletes and coaches, and all whom they influence, the challenge and adventure of receiving Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord, serving Him in their relationships and in the fellowship of the church."

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes applies muscle and action to the Christian faith. It strives to strengthen the moral, mental, and spiritual fiber of the athletes and coaches of America.

FCA exists to serve Christ through the Church. It is interdenominational, interracial, and embraces both Protestants and Catholics. FCA is national in operation and composed of men and women from the athletic/faith community who desire to advance the ministry of Christ in all areas of life.

PAUL TABOR: The Bible, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and life's blessings will be added unto you." I claim that promise, and God has blessed me because of it. I'm thankful to have opportunities to witness. My life would be empty and meaningless without God's love and care. Because of my faith, I can look beyond the disappointments of this life. I praise God for Him being my heavenly father.

JEFF McDONALD: We fight the battles of life everyday. There is one battle we don't have to fight and that's the battle of salvation which Jesus Christ fought on the cross for us 2,000 years ago. He won the victory three days later when He rose from the grave and we, too, can share in that victory when we accept Him as our personal Savior and Lord. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes helps spread that message of salvation to individuals all over the world.

LARRY COSHOW: A verse that has really blessed my life is Col. 3:23 which says, "Whatever you do, do it heartily for the Lord, and not for men." I have that by doing things for the Lord and living a totally committed life for Him, He has really blessed my life. Through FCA, God has given me the opportunity to share Christ with others, and also has helped me in my daily walk with Christ. The greatest victory I've had in my life is accepting Jesus Christ as my personal savior.

SHERWOOD TAYLOR: As Christians we are to maintain a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. The Bible says that "Whatever you do, do your work heartily, as for the Lord rather than for men." Whatever pertains to sports, business or anything, while heartily pertains giving it all you have. The most important part is doing it for the Lord. It is important to remember that Jesus Christ should receive all the credit for everything. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes has been very helpful in doing things for Jesus Christ.

Athletes and Coaches at the University of Oklahoma have played an important role in the leadership of FCA since its inception over twenty years ago.

In 1956, Wrestling Coach and Athletic Counselor, Port Robertson, "invited" nine OU athletes to attend the 1st National FCA Summer Conference held in Estes Park, Colorado. From that group, Bill Krisher and Chuck Bowman are now full time directors of FCA programs in the Southwest United States. Clendon Thomas is a member of the National Board of Trustees and serves as an important volunteer in the Oklahoma program.

The Star-Spangled Banner

Oh, say can you see,
by the dawn's early light?
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars
Through the perils we O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thru' the night
that our flag was still there
Oh, say does that Star spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

OU CHANT

O-K-L-A-H-O-M-A
Our chant rolls on and on Thousands strong join heart and song in Alma Mater's praise
Of campus beautiful by day and night
Of colors proudly gleaming
red and white
Neath a western sky.
OU's chant will never die
Live on University

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics is eager to render the maximum service to patrons of Memorial Stadium. This includes those in the ticket office, ushers, gatemen, all security personnel, OU concessionaires and other attendants on game days. We will appreciate your suggestions.

FIRST AID AND CARDIAC CARE CENTER — Facilities are located directly beneath Sections 19 and 106. Doctors will be paged by the public address only by means of their state medical license numbers.

CONCESSIONS at Memorial Stadium are operated by the Athletic Department. Many of the people serving you today are either OU students or members of the University staff. Please note — all vendors and stand employees have uniform numbers. Any complaint can be rectified only if you give exact uniform numbers. Please report any overcharge or courtesy to Charles Power, concessions manager. Concession prices are listed on page 51.

PUBLIC TELEPHONES are located beneath the east, north and west stadium concourses.

WATER FOUNTAINS are located in each lower rest room and on the concourse of the east, north and west stadium in addition to the three levels of the deck.

REST ROOMS for ladies and gentlemen are located in all concourse areas, both upper and lower. Attendants are on duty in all ladies' rest rooms.

WHEEL CHAIRS — There are special wheel chair areas located in Sections 36, 37, 39 and 40 in the south stadium at ground level. These sections can be reached via Gates 1A and 42 only.

EMERGENCY TELEPHONES are located beneath the east, north, west and upper deck seating and in the south end of the east stadium. These phones are for immediate access to medical services and police personnel.

PARTNERS FOR THE FUTURE

The Wilson Agency Mass Mutual The Citizens of Oklahoma

As general agent for Mass Mutual, our business is providing life and health insurance protection for our friends and neighbors in the Greater Oklahoma City area.

This amounts to over $381 million of individual life insurance, plus another $108.8 million of group life and health protection.

This is only part of the story, however, of the partnership between the citizens of Oklahoma and Mass Mutual.

Total Mass Mutual individual and group protection throughout the entire state amounts to over $729 million.

In addition, at the end of 1978, Mass Mutual had substantial financial commitments to the citizens of Oklahoma in mortgage loans and real estate totaling over $24.8 million; investments in securities of Oklahoma businesses of over $15.1 million; and other investments, including policy loans, amounting to $21.2 million. This comes to a grand total of nearly $61.1 million.

As you see, we share with all of you a big stake in Oklahoma's future.

Our pledge is to continue to provide the kind of financial support to families and businesses that will help insure full enjoyment and utilization of the many opportunities our state and city have to offer.

From the President of the University

The tradition of excellence in intercollegiate athletics is a great asset at the University of Oklahoma. National distinction received from this legacy benefits the entire state of Oklahoma.

Last year, the Sooners were Big Eight Conference Champions in football, basketball, baseball, and gymnastics. Nationally, the University became the third school in history to have athletes claim both the coveted Heisman and Outland Trophy awards in the same year.

Excellence is contagious. We are now embarked on a drive to strengthen the academic quality of the University. The response from alumni and friends demonstrates a commitment to make the University of Oklahoma as distinguished academically as it is athletically.

The 800 men and women listed on pages 32 through 34 have actively pledged their support of academic excellence by becoming members of an exciting new group, The University of Oklahoma Associates. Their gifts have enabled the University to increase its private support for academic programs from $75,000 to $800,000 in one year.

Our supporters have high aspirations for the University of Oklahoma. No better investment in the future of Oklahoma can be made than to enrich the quality of our state's oldest university.

Jack Baer
Kicking Coach
and Equipment Manager

Jack has been with Oklahoma longer than any other coach on the staff. During his 34 years with the Sooners, some of the coaching responsibilities entrusted to Baer have been OU football B team coach, freshman coach, assistant freshman coach, and the Sooner baseball coach for 23 years. His 1951 baseball squad won the NCAA championship and Jack was named coach of the year.

As a player, Baer quarterbacked Shawnee High School from 1931 to 1933. He also played quarterback for the Sooners from 1935 to 1937 under coaches Lawrence "Biff" Jones and Tom Stidham, and kicked and played defensive back for Bunker Hill Naval Air Station in 1943.

The kicking game has played an important part in the success of the Sooners the past few seasons. Such players as Tony DiRienzo and Uwe von Schamann have literally 'saved the game' with pressure kicks, with the 29-28 heart-stopping victory over Ohio State a good example. Jack Baer has helped mold Oklahoma's great kickers, and he has another good one in Michael Keeling for 1979.

Baer was a fine athlete as well as a coach throughout his athletic history. In 1937 he was an all-Big Six Conference quarterback, President of his freshman class in 1934, and played professional baseball for the Boston Red Sox and Boston Braves farm system. As the OU baseball coach, his teams won six conference championships and swept the NCAA tournament at Omaha as Baer was named the first-ever NCAA Coach of the Year. Jack was also on the 1967 NCAA baseball rules committee, and was the NCAA 5th district baseball selection chairman for 1968 to 1970.

The German, Scotch-Irish-Cherokee all-Oklahoman was born in Shawnee, on October 29, 1914. He was graduated from Oklahoma in 1940 with a B.S. in Education, and was a member of Kappa Sigma. He and his wife, Katherine, reside in Norman.

Charley North,
Offensive Line Coach
(Assistant)

Charley North came to the University of Oklahoma on April 2, 1979, as an assistant offensive line coach to replace the departed Charlie Sadler, who accompanied Donnie Duncan to Iowa State. North left McAlester High School, after three successful years as the head coach in McAlester.

Both Mervin Johnson and Charley North are faced with the rebuilding of the offensive line after the departure of Greg Roberts and Sammy Jack Claphan to the professional ranks. But the Sooners are not without returning talent, however, as North intends to help mold such players as Lyndle Byford, Terry Crouch, and Steve Williams into the caliber athletes that Sooner fans have become accustomed to watching open holes on autumn Saturdays.

North began his coaching experience as an assistant coach at Wagoner High School in 1967 and '68, where his teams went 8-2 and 7-3 and were District 8AA champions both years. As an assistant coach and defensive coordinator at McAlester High School from 1969-71, North gained valuable experience coaching, as he was chosen as the head mentor at Tecumseh High in 1972. His teams went 26-17 from 1972 to 1975. In 1976, North moved back to McAlester High as the Head Coach, and his teams went 21-12, and were District 8AAA Champions in '76 and '77. In eight of the twelve years that North has been coaching high school ball, his teams have made the state playoffs.

Charley attended Eastern State University from 1963 to 1974, and was graduated with a B.S. from Panhandle State in 1966. While a four-year letterman at center, North also played linebacker for Panhandle as well as served time on the baseball squad. North gained his initial coaching experience at Panhandle State, where he was a graduate assistant on the offensive line.

Born August 15, 1944, Charley received his M.S. at East Central State in 1973. His wife, Sharon, is also a graduate of Panhandle State, where she earned a B.S. in 1966. The Norths have a daughter, Charla Kay, who is fourteen years old.

Dan Pickett
Head Athletic Trainer

Dan Pickett, who had been serving as acting athletic trainer for the Sooners since Ken Rawlinson's death March 5, was promoted to head trainer June 1, 1979.

Dan had served as a student assistant under Rawlinson for four years, from 1972-75. Following his graduation from Oklahoma University, Pickett was named head trainer at Midwest City High School for one year and then at Berkner High School in Richardson, Texas, for the 1977 school term. A graduate of Altus High School, Pickett was a student trainer there for four years before enrolling at OU.

Pickett was named assistant athletic trainer at Oklahoma in August, 1978. OU athletic director Wade Walker said Oklahoma was fortunate to have a man of Pickett's capabilities already on the staff when Rawlinson died. "He was Ken's handpicked choice as an assistant, and we feel the transition will be smooth. He is a quality addition to our staff," Walker commented.

Other experience that Dan has garnered includes being the head trainer for the Anchorage (Alaska) Glazier Pilots of the Alaskan Baseball League from 1974-78, and he is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association.

Pickett was graduated from Oklahoma University in December, 1976, with a B.S. in Physical Education. He is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association, and of the Big Eight Committee of Medical Aspects of Sports.

Barry Switzer

Barry Switzer's Oklahoma teams have never finished out of first place in the rugged Big Eight Conference, and his coaching record of 62-6-2 is by far the best in major college football the past six years, the length of time that he has been in charge of OU's football program.

Barry's 1974 and '75 teams won back-to-back National Championships, which have served to give Oklahoma five No. 1 titles in the school's long, successful football history.

The 1978 edition of the Sooner football team relied mostly on offense to thrash its weekly opponents. Oklahoma finished first in the nation in rushing yardage (4,709) and in scoring (440 points), and second in total offense (5,382 yards). The much-heralded Billy Sims won the Heisman Trophy as the nation's best college player, while Greg Roberts won the Outland Trophy as college football's best lineman. The Sooners did not thrive solely on offense in 1978 however, as the defense boasted of a handful of All-Americans and was second in the nation in interceptions with 26 and finished near the top in fewest yards given up through the air. A very strong nucleus returns on both offense and defense to give the Sooners much hope for 1979.

As OU's head coach, Switzer watched Oklahoma teams win 28 straight games and play a total of 37 without a loss, until Kansas upset the Sooners 23-3 in 1975. But OU won the National Championship after the 14-6 Orange Bowl triumph over the Michigan Wolverines that year, and Coach Switzer was forced to demonstrate his abilities while rebuilding in 1976. The Fiesta Bowl romp over Wyoming was proof of Barry's winning capabilities.

Oklahoma has played a total of four bowl games since Switzer took the helm in the winter of 1973, and has won three of those games. OU beat Michigan, 14-6, in the 1976 Orange Bowl, to win its second National title in a row before slamming Wyoming 41-7 in the 1976 Fiesta Bowl. The Sooners dropped a decision to Arkansas in the 1978 Orange Bowl, but rebounded to stop Nebraska 31-24 in the revenge-minded 1979 Orange Bowl.

OU's back-to-back National Championships in 1974 and '75 marked the second time that that has happened in Sooner history, and is something that no other college team has ever accomplished. Coach Bud Wilkinson's 1955 and '56 teams also finished No. 1 in the nation.

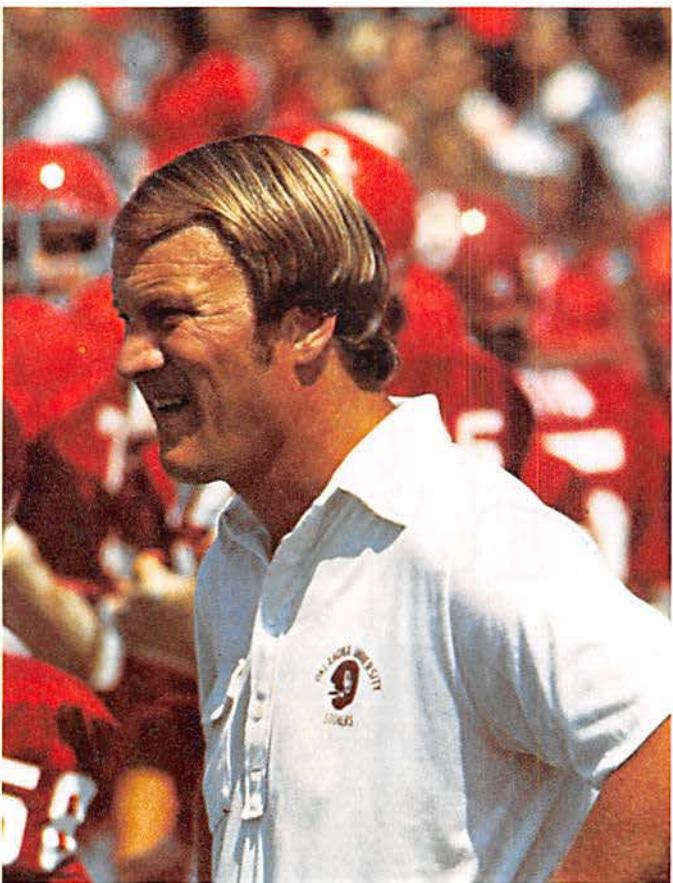

Switzer's 1973 team, his first as head coach, finished 10-0-1 (a 7-7 tie with Southern Cal marred perfection) and ranked No. 3 nationally.

Barry's 1974 squad led the nation in total offense (507.7 yards), rushing yardage (438.8), and in scoring (43 points per game) to finish 11-0.

Switzer took over as OU's head coach when Chuck Fairbanks left to become head coach and general manager of the New England Patriots in 1973. Switzer was serving as assistant head coach in charge of the Sooners' offense under Fairbanks.

Barry came to Oklahoma in 1966 as the offensive line coach under Jim Mackenzie. He had coached every aspect of the game as an assistant coach at Arkansas for seven years, served under Bobby Proctor as a freshman player there, and became well-acquainted with his assistant Mervin Johnson and his rival across the river, Fred Akers. He played linebacker and center for the Razorbacks in 1957-59, and captained them to the Southwest Conference co-championship his senior year.

Barry and wife Kay have three children, Greg, Kathy, and Doug.

From The Athletic Director

Welcome to Memorial Stadium, which now accommodates 71,187 fans. I am pleased to extend to each and every one our warmest greetings and best wishes for an enjoyable afternoon.

We are proud of our total athletic program and our expanded physical plant wherewith we are able to bring you outstanding state, intersectional and Big Eight Conference competition in both men's and women's athletics. We are also very proud of our coaches, administrative staff and outstanding athletes who make our total program a huge success.

I hope that you have a pleasant visit to our campus and that you will come back time and time again. You are always welcome.

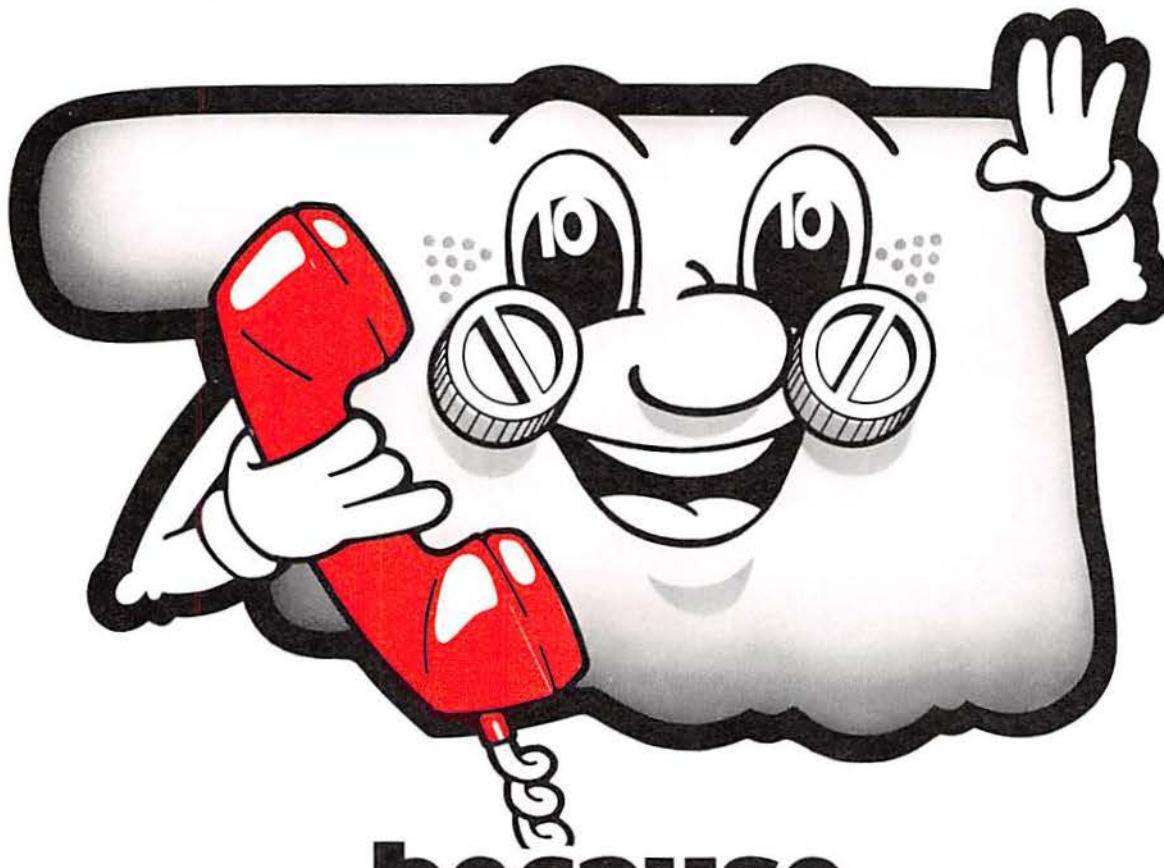

Sincerely yours,

People listen to KTOK

because

KTOK listens to people.

That, very simply, is the key to our success. We listen. Our whole format is a lively give-and-take between us and our listeners. We plant a seed in people's heads, and something very interesting happens. They get involved. They call in and offer their own views. The results are radical, conservative, middle-of-the-road, funny, sad and touching. But it shows someone's listening. And thinking.

We listen most carefully to the events that shape our world. It's made us Oklahoma's unchallenged leader in broadcast news. KTOK's news watch never stops. When weather threatens, we're the place people turn.

And we're more. We're contemporary music and entertaining features with Paul Harvey and Howard Cosell. We're Red Rover Air Traffic Watch, and OU football in the fall.

Our sound isn't something that occurred to us one day in a meeting. We didn't buy it or copy it. It just evolved, naturally, from people who listen at home and in our studio. And it's made us one of the top stations in the country.

But will success spoil KTOK? We don't think so. We'll just continue doing what we're doing, because we know and so does everybody else, that only KTOK is the Sound of Oklahoma.

There's a Lot of OU in The Williams Companies.

Competitiveness is a way of life at The Williams Companies just as it is at the University of Oklahoma.

At OU, competitiveness is often judged by Saturday's final score or by one's final grade point average. At Williams, it's judged by our bottom line, and our business environment is every bit as competitive as the Big Eight or the college classroom.

In 1966, Williams launched a selective diversification program. That game plan has established Williams as a consistent winner. Our success in the nation's fertilizer, energy and metals businesses has earned us a high ranking in the polls. Our brand of team play has increased our assets from $53 million to over $2 billion, and our revenues from $35 million to $1.5 billion.

That's quite a building program and we've had to recruit outstanding, competitive individuals to accomplish it. Perhaps that's why graduates of the University of Oklahoma fill so many skilled positions on our human resources team.

We count on a number of Big Red Sooners to fill various positions of responsibility in our company including our president and chief operating officer, Barry J. Galt (BA, Accounting, '55; LLB, '60).

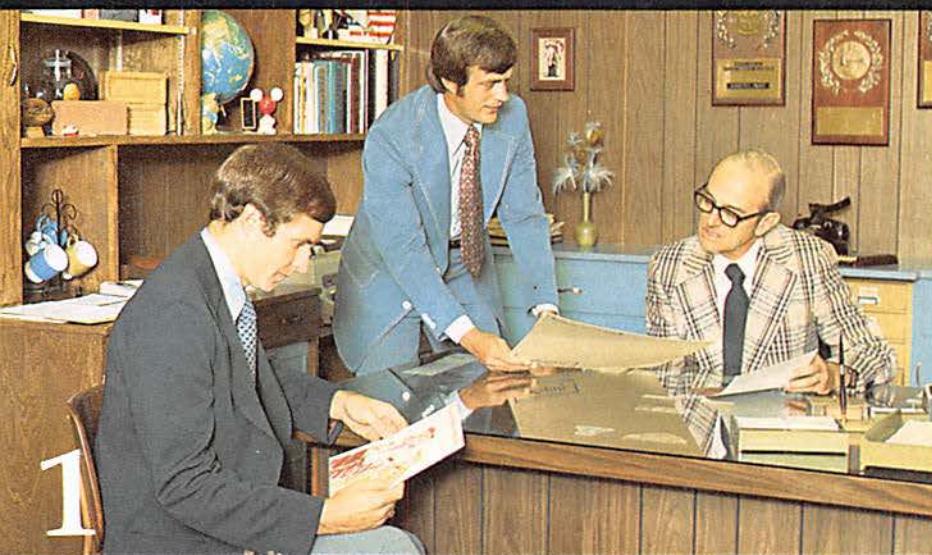

There's a lot of OU in The Williams Companies. Both in terms of people and in competitive spirit.

WASHOE

By DIANNE BYSTROM
OU News Services

TALKING TO THE CHIMPS. Dr. Roger Fouts, professor of psychology and director of Project Washoe, makes the sign for "sit."

Many names come to mind when one considers the important persons of Oklahoma — entertainers, politicians and athletes.

But to many scientists and researchers, the most important "person" in the state might well be a chimpanzee named Washoe at the University of Oklahoma.

"Scientifically, Washoe is the most important individual in Oklahoma," said Dr. Roger Fouts, professor of psychology at OU and director of Project Washoe.

The 14-year-old chimp's credentials certainly are impressive. "Washoe was the first chimpanzee in the world to learn American Sign Language hand gestures for the deaf," Fouts said. And now, Washoe is using the gestures with her 18-month-old adopted son Loulis — apparently dispelling the belief that only humans can transmit language from one generation to the next.

Washoe began using signs when she was 10 to 12 months old, said Fouts, who has worked with the chimp since she was an infant. She now knows about 240 signs to express her emotions, thoughts and wants. Still, Washoe is a "pretty average chimp," Fouts said. "She's not a genius." Other chimps have since learned sign language although Washoe probably has more vocabulary skills.

Washoe has been known to string eight to 10 words together to express herself, said Dr. George Kimball, research associate to Fouts. For example, the chimp once signed to Kimball, "Please George.

SHOWING THEIR "play faces," Washoe and Loulis engage in a game of tickle.

"LISTEN," SIGNS WASHOE, who has mastered 240 gestures of American Sign Language and now uses them with Loulis, her adopted son.

give me some orange drink." When Kimball signed back that they didn't have any, Washoe told him to "get in his car."

"She knew that you could get some orange drink somewhere," Kimball said.

The chimp signs to almost anyone working with the project, Kimball said, usually to solicit food. "She seems to know when someone is good at sign language," he said. "If they can't keep up with her, she slows down as if to say, 'If you can't keep up with me, I'll come down to your level.'"

Washoe is "much more eloquent when she talks to Roger," Kimball adds. "They are very good friends."

The chimp also signs to Ali, the father of her second child, and to Loulis, who was borrowed from Emory University's Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center in Atlanta last March. Loulis was adopted after Washoe's first two babies died.

Fouts has a National Science Foundation grant to study how Loulis acquires language from his adoptive mother. "This is the first case of cultural transmission between generations," he said. "It's going better than I expected."

So far, Loulis has picked up 10 signs that he uses practically everyday, Fouts said. The baby chimp signed his first combination — drink that — early in October while playing with a water faucet.

When Loulis is playing, he often uses signs out of context, Fouts adds, much like the babbling of a human infant. But he uses his food, drink, hug and name signs in the correct context.

To make sure that Loulis picks up the sign language from Washoe, the researchers now restrict their signs to five questions — what, where, who, want and sign — when the baby chimp is around, Fouts said.

INQUISITIVE AND PLAYFUL, 18-month-old Loulis has captured the hearts of those involved with Project Washoe.

"At first we had to walk around with our hands in our pockets because we were so used to signing to Washoe," Kimball said. "But Washoe understands English pretty well." If someone slips and signs in front of Loulis it is recorded in the data, Fouts added.

Loulis has picked up most of his signs from imitating his mother — the same way that humans learn their language. "Only two occasions have looked like teaching," Fouts said. "One time Washoe molded Lou's hand into the sign for food and another time she showed him a chair and made the sign for chair repeatedly." Loulis has learned the food sign, but hasn't picked up the sign for chair.

"We don't believe in teaching because it's a passive way to learn," Fouts added. "Chimps will actively seek information about things that make sense in their environment."

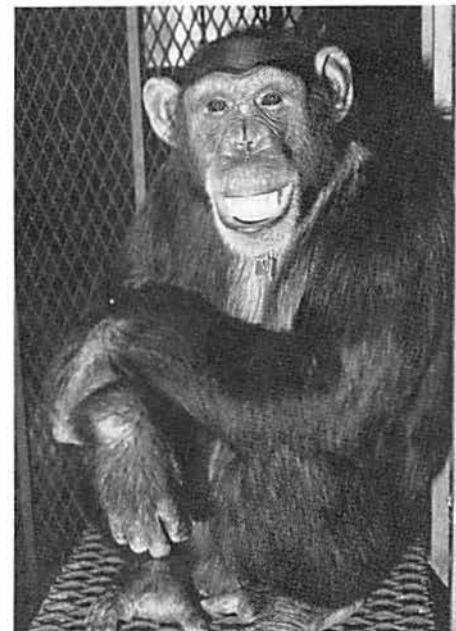

For that reason, the chimps only learn signs that are important in their world. "We don't push vocabulary. We limit signs to ones they would use. For example, it's not necessary to teach them the word supersonic," he said.

"Vocabulary signs are not what we look at," Fouts added. "It's what they do with the signs, how they put them together, that is important."

The goal of Project Washoe is to examine the acquisitive and cognitive abilities of chimpanzees, Fouts said.

"Language is one way to look at general chimpanzee mentality."

Although the purpose of the project is scientific, it's hard to ignore the personality of the chimps and the warmth between them and the researchers. "Interestingly enough, we learned only recently that Washoe means person in Indian language," Fouts said. "She's a non-human person, but a person. She definitely has a personality."

SOONERS '79

1 J. C. WATTS

QB, 5-11, 205, Jr.
Eufaula

Will be the starting quarterback for the '79 Sooners . . . played backup to Thomas Lott in '78 . . . perhaps the best passer to play for OU under Barry Switzer . . . started the '78 Kansas game after Lott sprained an ankle one afternoon in Dallas . . . threw a 52-yard bomb to Freddie Nixon against the Jayhawks . . . completed 5 passes for 93 yards in the Kansas game . . . J. C. can also run with the ball very well . . . rushed 31 times for 71 yards against Oklahoma State and scored on a 26-yard burst . . . gained 76 yards on 6 carries and scored a TD against Rice . . . is a talented ball player and will see to it that the Wishbone keeps scoring in 1979.

2 WILLIE WRIGHT

HB, 5-10, 186, Soph.
El Paso, Texas

Wright is a versatile athlete who can play a number of positions well . . . besides playing as a running back for the Sooners in 1978, Wright also served time on the specialty teams . . . rushed 10 times for 67 yards in '78 . . . his longest was an 18-yarder against Rice . . . also scored a touchdown . . . finished the spring behind David Overstreet at the right halfback spot.

3 DARROL RAY

FS, 6-2, 210, Sr.
Killeen, Texas

Darrol is an All-Big Eight safety and is probably the best athlete in OU's defensive secondary . . . led OU's season pass interception records with seven in '78 . . . stole another in the Orange Bowl against Nebraska . . . will also be OU's punter after averaging 38.9 yards per barefoot boot in '78 . . . had two interceptions against Stanford, one of which set up a Sooner TD . . . set up a TD against West Virginia with a 33-yard return of an errant aerial . . . returned a theft 45 yards against Texas which set up Uwe von Schamann's 35-yard field goal . . . was OU's third leading tackler in the secondary with 41 stops . . . returned a kickoff 36 yards in the rematch with Nebraska in the Orange Bowl that led to a 24-7 Sooner lead.

4 ROD PEGUES

QB, 6-3, 180, Soph.
Gainesville, Texas

Rod is a highly regarded quarterback who is in a tight battle with Kelly Phelps for the immediate backup spot behind J. C. Watts . . . lost a little ground in spring camp when he injured an ankle and missed some time . . . Pegues is a fine athlete who has the capabilities of playing different positions on the field . . . played some at quarterback in 1978 . . . picked up 61 net yards on 12 attempts for a fine 5.1 average . . . longest gain was 13 yards against Rice.

5 BRUCE TATON

DE, 6-4, 211, Sr.
Tulsa

Bruce was the Sooners' right defensive end in '78 . . . became a starter in '77 after Barry Burget was injured . . . most important play in 1977 came against Missouri with the Tigers leading 10-0 and on the OU 5-yard line. Taton broke through the line and sacked Pete Woods for an eight-yard loss, the Tigers missed the ensuing field goal, and the Sooners eventually won the game 21-17 . . . has successfully made the switch from his high school position of quarterback . . . totaled 59 tackles in '78, with 6 for 32 yards in losses . . . crunched Longhorn ball carriers 8 times and broke up a pass in Dallas . . . made 7 stops against Iowa State . . . stopped Colorado runners 10 times . . . will team with Greg Sellmyer in '79 to provide OU with great depth at right defensive end.

7 KELLY PHELPS

QB, 5-11, 185, Soph.
Oklahoma City, Okla.

Kelly is a pre-law major who finished spring practice behind J. C. Watts . . . is expected to battle Rod Pegues for the backup spot this fall . . . was the holder for Uwe von Schamann's placekicks in '78 . . . is also a Sooner kickoff returner . . . played both JV and varsity football . . . Phelps' best performance came against Kansas State when he guided the Sooners 78 yards for a score in 5 plays, and he carried the ball on all but one play . . . as backup to Watts, Kelly is expected to see a lot of playing time in 1979.

9 JOHN HOGE

K, 5-11, 190, Fr.
Dallas, Tex.

John was a very highly touted and recruited kicker out of Texas . . . in a year with a host of fine kickers from south of the Red River, Switzer chose Hoge as the best talent . . . has kicked field goals from greater than 50 yards while in high school . . . has some mighty big boots to fill with the departure of Uwe von Schamann, but Hoge has the confidence and determination it takes to win the close ones . . . Sooner fans will not be disappointed this fall.

11 FREDDIE NIXON

HB-SE-PR, 5-11, 196, Sr.
Miami, Fla.

Freddie is a three-year letterman at OU . . . backed Elvis Peacock at left half and returned punts and kickoffs in 1977 . . . played halfback, split end, and returned both punts and kickoffs in 1978 . . . burned Iowa State with an 85-yard punt return that led to a 35-16 Sooner victory in '77 . . . also scored on a 55-yard jaunt from scrimmage against Kansas State . . . returned 22 punts for 266 yards and 7 kickoffs for 118 more in '77 . . . teamed with Bobby Kimball at split end in '78 after Steve Rhodes hurt his shoulder in Dallas . . . ran back 24 punts for 243 yards . . . rushed for 113 yards on 13 carries while playing halfback and caught 5 passes for 109 yards at split end . . . pulled in a 52-yard bomb from J. C. Watts to beat Kansas . . . skipped 12 yards for a score against Rice . . . returned 4 punts for 71 yards and set up OU's first TD against Colorado with one of the returns going for 43 yards.

14 MIKE BABB

CB, 6-2, 197, Sr.
Ada

Mike was moved from his starting position at right cornerback to strong safety after Sherwood Taylor's injury before the '78 Missouri game . . . was also a starter in 1977, recovered the onside kickoff at midfield with 1:21 left in the Ohio State game, which set the stage for von Schamann's winning field goal . . . totaled 35 tackles, 3 intercepted passes, and recovered 2 fumbles in '78 . . . had his greatest game in '78 against Colorado, when he set up the Sooners' third TD with an interception at the CU 43, and stormed in to tackle the Buff's quarterback for a 7-yard loss on 4th down and goal at the OU 4-yard line late in the game . . . was OU's nominee for the Big Eight Defensive Player of the Week . . . sat out the spring while recovering from surgery, but is expected to back in the fall.

SOONERS '79

15 JAY JIMERSON
CB, 5-9, 171, Jr.
Norman

Started the '77 campaign as a quarterback behind Thomas Lott and Dean Blevins, but was moved to the defensive secondary when injuries killed several starters. Started at right cornerback in '78. Totaled 6 tackles against Stanford and recovered a fumble that set up OU's first TD of the year. Recovered a fumble and picked off a pass against Kansas. Preserved a 7-7 tie at the half against Colorado when he hauled in a Buffalo pass in OU's end zone. Was the second-leading tackler in OU's secondary in '78 with 42, also intercepted 3 passes and recovered 3 fumbles. Jay's father is Don Jimerson, OU's assistant athletic director and a former Sooner assistant football coach.

17 BASIL BANKS
CB, 5-11, 177, Jr.
Galveston, Texas

Backed Terry Peters at left cornerback in '77, where he intercepted 2 passes against Kansas State and Nebraska. Was the leading tackler in the '78 secondary with 60 stops, put the Missouri game out of reach when he picked off a Tiger pass and killed a drive, and OU marched 63 yards for a 2H-0 lead. Totaled 10 stops that afternoon, brought down 6 Longhorn runners and picked up a bubble as OU routed Texas 31-10. Dropped 7 Colorado ball carriers, with one for a 4-yard loss. Hit hard against the Cornhuskers, when he stopped a Nebraska ball carrier and recovered a fumble. Was injured and sat out spring practice, but will be back for the '79 season.

18 KEN SITTON
DB, 6-4, 200, Jr.
Marshall, Texas

Sitton is a very highly regarded juco transfer from Navarro, Texas Junior College. Has excellent height and speed in the defensive backfield. Participated in a hotly contested battle for the left cornerback spot during spring drills. Will be back this fall in an attempt to gain the starting berth at that position. Sooner fans should remember this one.

20 BILLY SIMS
hooks, Tex.

Billy of Hooks, Texas on the map when he won the Heisman Trophy in 1978. Was also a consensus All-American, Walter Camp Foundation's Player of the Year, and Sport Magazine's Player of the Year as well as the recipient of a host of other awards. Was the nation's leading rusher and scorer when he averaged 160.1 yards and 10.9 points per game. Totaled 1,262 yards (a Big Eight record) and scored 20 TD's. First Big Eight player to rush for more than 200 yards in 3 consecutive games (231 vs. Iowa State, 202 vs. Kansas St., 221 vs. Colorado). Is famous for the long punt, which has left fans and opponents breathless. Some of his long runs include a 41-yarder for a TD against West Virginia, 2 of 4 TDs on runs of 32 and 50 yards against Missouri, 53 and 63-yard gallops vs. Iowa State. Scored on a 59-yard sprint against Colorado. Ripped Nebraska for scores on runs of 30 and 44 yards scored twice in the Texas game after announcing that he would do so. Crushed Oklahoma State with 209 yards and 4 TDs. Reversed the Sooners' lone loss of the season with 135 yards and 2 TDs in the Orange Bowl.

21 WOODIE SHEPARD
FB, 6-1, 205, Jr.
Odessa, Texas

Woodie Shepard is a very familiar name to Sooner fans, although not playing for the Sooners the past two seasons. Shepard has returned to battle for one of the running back spots. Walked on this spring to get back in shape while playing fullback. Is best remembered for the 47-yard bomb he threw, with the running out to Steve Rhodes in the '76 Nebraska game, which OU won 20-17. Shepard will add needed depth to the running back corps this fall.

22 DAVID OVERSTREET
RHB, 5-11, 192, Jr.
Big Sandy, Tex.

David made the starting lineup in 1977 when Billy Sims injured his ankle against Ohio State. Carried 71 times for 329 yards in '77 and scored 4 touchdowns. His most important score came against Oklahoma State, when he took a lateral from Steve Rhodes and zipped 43 yards to put the Sooners ahead of the Cowboys 35-28. Started at right halfback in '78 after missing the first three games with an injury. Dashed 64 yards for a score against Missouri, and finished the day with 153 yards on 10 carries. Scored a 2-yard TD against Texas. David is a fast, strong running back with two years of eligibility remaining and will team excellently with Billy Sims in 1979 to provide OU with a dynamic and explosive running attack.

23 MIKE LOVELADY
DB, 6-2, 185, Soph.
Houston, Texas

When Coach Proctor said he needed defensive backs, one of the best in Texas came forward to play - Mike Lovelady. Mike has good size, fine speed, and great ability. Got some playing time in during '78 when he made 7 tackles. Came back in the revenge-minded Orange Bowl to drop a Cornhusker. Finished the spring behind Byron Paul, but he will play some this fall.

24 STEVE RHODES
SE, 6-0, 186, Sr.
Dallas, Tex.

Steve was the No. 1 split end for the Sooners in 1977 and '78. Totaled 12 receptions for 226 yards as a freshman in '76. Was a star of the '76 Nebraska game when he hauled in that 47-yard pass from Woodie Shepard, then took a short pass from Blevins and lateralized it to Elvis Peacock, which provided the Sooners with another heart-stopping victory over the archrival Cornhuskers. Played well until the '78 Texas game, when he injured his shoulder after hauling in a 22-yarder from J. C. Watts at the Longhorn 1-yard line. Caught a 70-yard TD bomb from Lott against Stanford. Hit a home run while playing baseball for the Sooners this spring. Is expected to share duty with Freddie Nixon at split receiver this fall.

25 GARY LOWELL
Sherman, Texas

Also answered Coach Proctor's call for defensive backs. Is built very well with good speed. Played some in '78, when he totaled 7 tackles and broke up two passes. Finished the spring behind Sherwood Taylor at strong safety, and will get his licks in this fall against Sooner opponents.

26 BARRY BURGET

DE, 6-3, 217, Sr.
Stroud

Started the '77 campaign at left defensive end, but was knocked out by a back injury the week of the Missouri game . . . helped win the '77 Vanderbilt game when he picked up a blocked field goal and raced 64 yards for a TD . . . provided Rod Gerald with bells in stereo in the Ohio State game, which forced the Buckeye quarterback to leave the game . . . because of his injury, Barry played behind Bruce Taton at right defensive end in '78, and totaled 46 tackles, with 2 for 13 yards in losses . . . stopped Tiger ball carriers 5 times in the Sooner victory over Missouri . . . had a great day against Iowa State with 9 tackles . . . dropped Kenny Brown on an end around for an 8-yard loss in the Nebraska game, which led to a Cornhusker punt and a Sooner drive that ended dismal at the Nebraska 3-yard line . . . will probably start for the Sooners at left defensive end this fall.

mid-week neck injury forced him out of action the week of the Texas game . . . totaled 24 tackles before his injury in '78, one for a 4-yard loss . . . recovered sufficiently to play in the Orange Bowl . . . came back healthy during spring practice and led all competition at the strong safety spot . . . will be in the thick of things when the Sooners showcase the 1979 edition of the Oklahoma football team.

27

BYRON PAUL

DB, 6-1, 187, Soph.
Altus

Byron was OU's No. 1 right cornerback as a freshman in '77 until he injured a knee in fall practice and missed the entire year.

"He's quite a guy," says Coach Bobby Proctor who is in charge of the defensive secondary, "but that doesn't mean he can't do the job. He's intelligent. That's why he was moved up to No. 1 as a freshman, I told him. Here, it's your job until someone takes it away." Byron was healthy enough to play with Basil Banks at the left corner in '78, where he totaled 24 stops, one for a 4-yard loss . . . finished the spring as the starter at left cornerback, and is expected to go at it this fall with Banks to determine the starter . . . will definitely see a lot of playing time for the Sooners this season.

56

DEWEY WILLIAMS

LB, 6-1, 215, Jr.
Batesville

Dewey is a fine athlete with good speed and hitting ability . . . started the spring drills behind George Cumby at the strongside linebacker spot, but finished the spring as a defensive end and played very well there . . . will play in 1979.

Although injured throughout much of the '77 campaign, Bud played both right cornerback and strong safety when his ailments allowed him . . . was injured in the Longhorn contest, but came back to play safety behind Taylor in the Sooners' final two games against Colorado and Nebraska . . . blocked the field goal against Vanderbilt in 1977 that Barry Burget picked up and raced 64 yards for a touchdown . . . Bud's surgery did not permit him to play in '78, so he retained a year of eligibility . . . played baseball this spring in an effort to rehabilitate his leg, and set a Sooner record by knocking three home runs out of Haskell Park in one game against Southwestern State . . . will definitely be a contender for a starting spot this fall.

GEORGE CUMBY

LB, 6-0, 205, Sr.
Gorman, Tex.

One of the best linebackers in the country, George is a converted running back who was named the Big Eight Conference's Defensive Player of the Year and Newcomer of the Year, an AP All-American, and an All-Big Eight selection in '77 . . . while totaling 140 tackles in '77, one of his most memorable stops came in the Texas game when he met Earl Campbell head-on and drove the big ex-Lonhorns runner into the ground . . . finished third on the team in tackles in '78 with 114, largely because he had to race Daryl Hunt to the ball carrier . . . scored his first regular season TD as a Sooner linebacker when he intercepted one of Dan Manucci's passes and returned it 40 yards . . . made 12 tackles in the Missouri game, one of which was a jarring smash to Earl Gant that gave the Sooners a fumble recovery . . . helped rout Texas with 12 stops and a pass interception . . . dropped 13 Buffaloes when they seemed determined to upset OU . . . in on 14 tackles and a pass theft against Nebraska . . . named to the 1st team AP all-Big Eight team in '78.

35

JAY MCKIM

HB, 5-11, 186, Jr.
Denver, Colo.

Jay has been a highly touted athlete, but has also suffered misfortune through the problem of a broken foot sustained late in spring practice in '77 and the advent of Billy Sims . . . in '78 Jay rushed 10 times for 62 yards and a 6.2 average, with two runs of 11 yards each . . . spent a lot of time subbing for Sims in spring practice, thus gaining much valuable experience . . . the Wishbone uses a multitude of running backs, and Jay's determination will gain him playing time this fall.

31

SHERWOOD TAYLOR

Taylor was the second leading tackler in the secondary in '77 with 36 stops, 2 for 13 yards in losses . . . also intercepted one pass, broke up two more, and recovered a fumble . . . became a starter when Bud Hebert was injured . . . Sherwood was the dominating force in the 1978 defensive secondary until a

36

JEFF WILLIAMS

LB, 6-2, 212, Soph.
Lakewood, Colo.

Jeff is a strong athlete who was the No. 3 fullback as a freshman in 1977 . . . ran 16 yards for a touchdown in OU's nationally televised 52-14 rout of Colorado . . . carried 8 times for a total of 45 yards and a 5.6 average in '77 . . . was redshirted in '78 . . . came back this spring to play defense, where he will be in the running for a starting spot this fall . . . the brother of Steve Williams, the "Doctor Death" of the wrestling team and a good offensive lineman . . . Jeff is a hard-hitting player, and that will get him in the lineup for the Sooners when they set out upon the 1979 campaign.

SOONERS '79

38 BARRY DITTMAN
LB. 6-0, 205, Sr.
Houston, Texas

A fine athlete, Barry has backed George Cumby and Daryl Hunt at linebacker the past two seasons . . . played behind Cumby at strong linebacker in '78, but still managed 34 tackles and broke up a pass . . . totaled 8 stops in the West Virginia game . . . for his 15-tackle performance (13 unassisted) against the Rice Owls, Dittman was nominated by Coach Switzer for the Big Eight's Defensive Player of the Week award . . . made appearances in the Missouri, Texas, Iowa State, Kansas State and Colorado games . . . with the departure of Daryl Hunt, Barry has inherited the weakside linebacker slot opposite Cumby for 1979.

39 GREG SELLMYER
DE. 6-2, 216, Sr., Amarillo, Tex.

A starter by the Kansas State game in '76, Greg is best remembered for the '76 Nebraska game when he zipped in to tackle Vince Ferragamo for a 6-yard loss back to the OU 48-yard line; the Cornhusker drive was killed in the waning seconds and a 20-17 Sooner victory was preserved . . . injured his knee in '77 and was redshirted . . . saw playing time at both defensive end slots in '78 . . . finished the year with 40 tackles, with 4 for 31 yards in losses . . . dropped Stanford's Darren Nelson for a 5-yard loss that forced a Cardinal punt . . . recovered a fumble against Rice . . . helped key the Sooner victory over Missouri with 8 stops . . . sacked Kansas quarterback Kevin Clinton for an 8-yard loss, and Clinton got up to throw an interception at the OU 15 yard line . . . picked off a Walter Gant pass and smacked 2 Buffs to the ground . . . will play a great deal in 1979.

41 MIKE REILLY
DE. 6-3, 221, Soph.
Miami, Fla.

Although he finished the 1978 spring drills behind Reggie Mathis and was heavily counted on to see action, Mike was injured in the Stanford game and was given a hardship ruling . . . has good height and size, and was tried at linebacker in the '79 spring drills . . . likes to play defensive end, so was moved back to that position . . . Mike will definitely get in playing time this season while competing for a starting spot with Taton, Sellmyer, and Burget.

42 BARRY JOYNER
FB. 6-1, 217, Jr.
Killeen, Texas

After being redshirted in 1977, Barry gained 160 yards on 38 carries in 1978 while playing behind Kenny King and Vickie Ray Anderson . . . scored from the 1 yard line and gained 57 yards on 11 carries against Rice . . . went in against Texas when both King and Anderson went down, and picked up 48 yards on 12 carries . . . Barry is probably the most powerful running back the Sooners have, and is hard to stop once he gets going . . . this spring saw Barry take sole possession of the fullback spot, making him a strong candidate for the starting spot in '79.

45 JERRY SANDERS
LB. 6-3, 210, Soph.
South Garland, Texas

A very finely constructed athlete who knows how to hit . . . Sanders played well enough in 1978 as a freshman to earn a letter . . . totaled 12 tackles, with 8 of them unassisted . . . also had a stop for a three-yard loss, broke up a pass, and recovered a fumble . . . finished the spring drills behind Barry Dittman at the weakside linebacker slot . . . with the departure of Daryl Hunt, both Dittman and Sanders will see a great deal of playing time in 1979.

52 MARK LUCKY
C. 5-11, 240, Jr.
Rosenberg, Texas

Recruited two years ago exclusively for his deep-snapping abilities, Lucky has assisted Uwe von Schamann in rewriting the NCAA placekicking record books in '77 and '78 . . . his snaps reach the punter or holder in one-sixth and sometimes one-eighth of a second, which is as fast as anybody playing the game . . .

Lucky and von Schamann teamed up in '78 for an NCAA-record 59-59 PATs . . . Mark has been a valuable asset for the Sooners through his consistency and speed . . . will team with John Hoge in 1979 in order to again rewrite the record books.

60 DON KEY
OG. 6-2, 245, Soph.
Pasadena, Texas

Key is a very highly regarded offensive lineman for the Sooners . . . was redshirted in '78 so that he would maintain a year of eligibility and learn the offensive blocking schemes . . . Don came on strong in spring drills, as he challenged Terry Crouch for the left guard starting berth . . . although he finished the spring behind Crouch, Key will get in a lot of playing time and experience this fall . . . the Sooner coaches are really high on this one.

61 ED CULVER
OG. 6-3, 253, Jr.
Tahlequah

Culver is a time-sized athlete who also possesses excellent speed to go along with his bulk . . . came on during the spring and surprised the coaches with his knowledge and ability . . . finished the spring drills behind Byford at right tackle, and is expected to be an asset for the Sooners in 1979 as they rebuild the offensive line . . . Ed is a pre-med student, but will do more to smash his opponents than to cure them in 1979.

65 JACK TYNES
OG. 6-3, 245, So.
Highland Park, Texas

Jack is coming off of a redshirt year, and is one of several offensive linemen that were held back in order for them to become more knowledgeable of the offensive blocking schemes . . . with the void created by the departure of Roberts, Clapham, and Farthing, the younger players such as Tynes are expected to step in and open the holes for the Sooner running backs . . . despite his inexperience, Jack finished the spring drills behind starter Louis Oubre at left tackle, and is expected to see playing time this fall.

69 JAMES CARNER
OG. 6-4, 255, Jr., Tulsa

A letterman in '78, Carner played the right offensive guard position behind Greg Roberts . . . has good size, fine speed, and is a very good blocker . . . will be counted upon in 1979 to fill the void left by the departed Greg Roberts . . . finished the spring drills as the No. 1 right guard, and started the Alumni game . . . will team with Lyndle Byford on the right side of the line to help the Sooner running backs set more records this year.

72 JOHN GOODMAN
DT, 6-5, 255, Sr.
Garland, Texas

While one of the most improved players on the team in '78, Goodman demonstrated his speed and versatility by continually finding himself in the opponent's backfield . . . was second to Reggie Kinlaw in tackles by a lineman with 113, and had 9 for 51 yards in losses . . . against Stanford he broke up two of Steve Dils' passes . . . John's lone tackle in the West Virginia game was a 16-yard loss for the Mountaineer quarterback . . . totaled 11 stops in the Missouri game, one of them good for a 6-yard loss . . . got 11 more in the Texas game, the most memorable being the sack of Donnie Little for an 8-yard loss at the end of the game . . . best game of the year came against Kansas when he had 20 tackles, caused 4 fumbles, dropped quarterback Harry Sydney twice for 12 yards in losses, and broke up the 2-point conversion attempt that would have won the game for the Jayhawks . . . totaled 16 stops against Nebraska . . . will be the mainstay of the defensive line in 1979.

73 PAUL TABOR
C, 6-4, 242, Sr.
Houston, Texas

Paul was a second team all-Big Eight selection by the Associated Press in 1978 . . . was injured in the summer of '78, and was moved to guard when Jody Fairthing came back to play center for the Sooners last fall . . . helped make a hole for Sims' 42-yard touchdown gallop against Missouri . . . smacked Texas' Robin Sandlin to the ground while helping free Kenny King for his 55-yard run against the Longhorns, then teamed with Roberts and Clapham to allow Sims an 18-yard TD burst . . . helped spring King for a 15-yard TD run against Iowa State and a 73-yarder against Colorado . . . was instrumental in the Sooner ground attack that netted 629 yards and a 62-7 victory for Oklahoma over the hapless Cowboys of Oklahoma State . . . will move back to center in 1979.

75 TERRY CROUCH
OG, 6-1, 242, Jr.
Dallas, Texas

Oklahoma's offensive line had to be completely reworked after graduation thinned the ranks . . . one of the replacements, Terry Crouch, has turned into a top-notch lineman, one that the coaches are depending upon this fall . . . led the spot at left offensive guard throughout the spring drills, and will probably start there this season . . . started the Alumni Game . . . is very compact for his weight and height, and is a fireplug on the line.

76 STEVE WILLIAMS
OG, 6-2, 275, Soph.
Lakewood, Colo.

Both Steve and his brother Jeff were highly recruited athletes out of the state of Colorado . . . brother Jeff plays linebacker behind George Cumby . . . Steve is also known as "Doctor Death" while grappling on the wrestling team . . . had a very successful winter in wrestling, and is the spark of the team . . . finished 6th in the NCAA finals, and had a record of 19-7-2 . . . started out the spring drills behind James Carter, but needs to be more consistent . . . the coaches are high on Steve, and claim that experience is what he needs to dominate at his position.

77 ELBERT GRAHAM
OT, 6-4, 255, So.
Greenville, Texas

With the departure of Clapham, Roberts, Fairthing, and the moving of Tabor back to center, many positions have been opened on the offensive line. Elbert is considered to be an up-and-coming hole-puncher for the Sooners . . . owns good size, speed, and power. Graham finished behind Louis Oubre at the offensive left tackle position this past spring while playing in the Alumni Game . . . will be a contender for line spot this fall, and will see some action for the Sooners.

78 SCOTT DAWSON
DT, 6-2, 246, Soph.
Shawnee

One of the better young players on the Sooner roster . . . is extremely quick and strong . . . had a great spring in 1978, when he made himself a contender for a starting berth . . . the coaches redshirted him, however, in order to give him another year of eligibility and a chance to better learn the defensive blocking schemes . . . lettered as a freshman in 1977 . . . finished the spring drills behind Keith Gary, and will get in much playing time this fall.

79 LYNDLE BYFORD
OT, 6-5, 280, Jr.
Duncan

While Byford was a highly touted athlete out of high school, the OU coaches were unsure of just how good he was until this spring . . . Lyndle completely dominated his position while learning very quickly the Sooner blocking schemes . . . will definitely start this fall at the right offensive tackle spot . . . with the absence of Greg Roberts and Sammy Clapham, the Sooner coaches were worried about replacements to spring the fleet running back corps, but Coaches Switzer and Johnson are rather pleased with themselves about the massive Byford.

82 FORREST VALORA
TE, 6-0, 223, Jr.
Phoenix, Ariz.

Although Valora was the backup to Victor Hicks the past two seasons, he did get some starts in '78 . . . the strongest player on the team, Valora can bench press 420 lbs. Forrest also owns great speed with his 4.7 timing for the 40, and both qualities add up to an excellent downfield blocker . . . caught only one pass in '78 but was good for 20 yards and a TD against Colorado . . . great specialty player on both the punting and the kick-off teams . . . clobbered Stanford's Gordon Banks on the opening kickoff, which earned Jay Jermson a fumble recovery and an eventual opening-season TD by Sims . . . teamed with Hicks on an alternating basis to open up the holes that allowed Sooner running backs to gain 510 yards against Iowa State . . . will be the starter at tight end in 1979.

Was a letterman his freshman campaign while making 20 tackles, with 2 of them good for 10 yards in losses . . . has tremendous speed and strength . . . will be one of the candidates for the noseguard position available this fall . . . in his best showing of '78, Lewis had 6 tackles against West Virginia . . . had two stops in the Rice game and 4 more against Iowa State . . . dropped Kansas State quarterback Sheldon Paris for a loss on a second and 7 from the Sooner 16 . . . best tackle of the season was in the Nebraska game, when Johnnie slammed Husker fullback Andra Franklin for a 3-yard loss on a second and 5 at the NU 39. Nebraska was forced to punt one play later . . . although an underclassman, Lewis will see a great amount of playing time on the defensive line this fall.

96 RICHARD TURNER
NG-DT, 6-1, 244, Jr.
Edmond

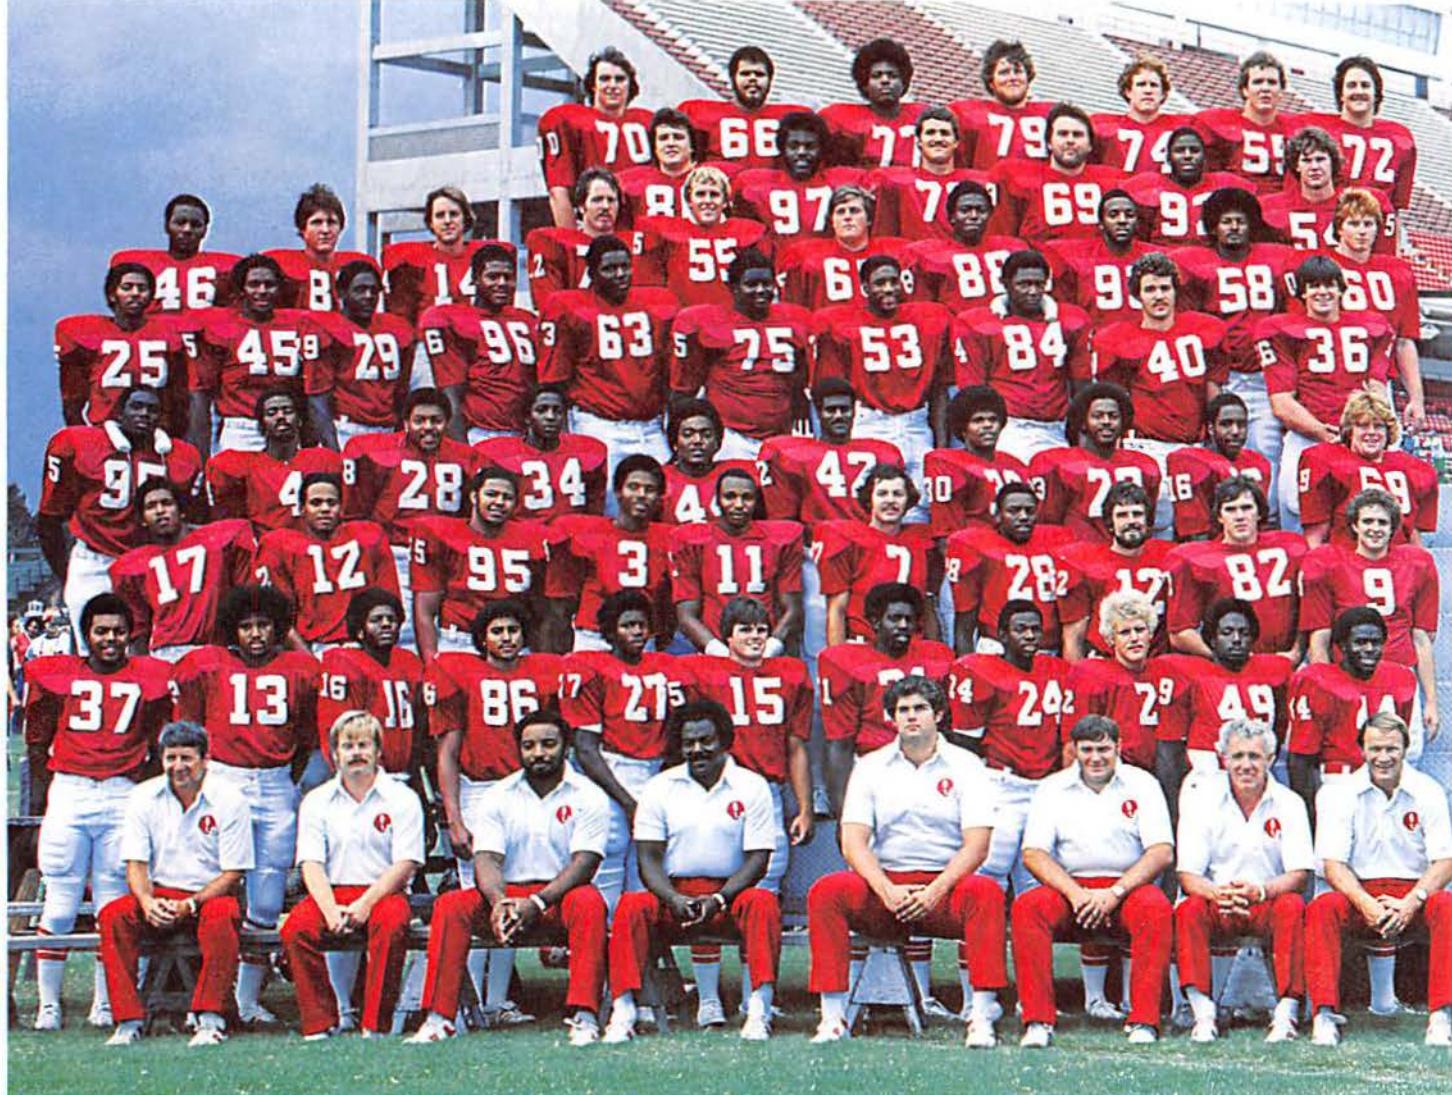

Entered the '78 season as a starter at the left defensive tackle position, but lost out to starter John Goodman . . . a painful chest injury sidelined him much of the season . . . missed the Oklahoma State finale due to surgery to remove a calcium deposit in his chest . . . still had 29 stops and one fumble recovery in '78 . . . had a great game against West Virginia, when he forced a punt by sacking Mountaineer quarterback Dutch Hoffman for a 7-yard loss and helped smother Hoffman again at the OU 37 for an 11-yard loss . . . had 5 tackles and a fumble recovery in the Rice game, the fumble recovery resulted in a J. C. Watts score from the eight . . . dropped ten Tigers in the Missouri game, with 7 of them unassisted . . . clobbered four Cornhuskers in the Nebraska game . . . will definitely be a contender for a defensive line position in 1979.

92 KEITH GARY
DT, 6-3, 245, Jr.
Washington, D.C.

Keith, a juco transfer from Ferrum, Virginia, Junior College, came on strong in spring practice to dominate the left defensive tackle position . . . started the Alumni game this past spring and played well . . . will add considerable depth to the defensive line this fall while battling for a starting spot . . . has great speed and strength as well as intelligence; learned the defensive schemes quickly during spring practice . . . Keith's father works in the Pentagon.

Let a great team protect your family.

In the game of life, life insurance is the soundest way—often the only way—to guarantee that your family will be free of money worries if you should die.

The moment you own a policy, you've guaranteed them cash. For food and clothing. For paying off the mortgage. For schooling. You've guaranteed that your family's future is more secure.

And no one is better prepared than a New York Life Agent to help you provide this basic financial security for your family. Carefully chosen, thoroughly trained and experienced. New York Life Agents make a full-time career of guiding families and businesses like yours towards greater financial security.

Pictured below are some of the New York Life Agents in this community—they're good people to know.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OKLAHOMA ASSOCIATES

Dean A. McGee
Founding Chairman

The University of Oklahoma Associates is the most crucial academic support group in the history of the university. Members contribute $1,000 annually in unrestricted funds for the academic enrichment of the university. Founded by President William S. Banowsky, the Associates' funds will improve the quality of classroom instruction, provide library support, supply funds for research and creative activities, sustain scholarly symposia and assist outstanding students.

*Membership in the Associates is open to alumni and friends of the university interested in increasing academic excellence. Present membership* is 800, with the goal of 1,500 members by the occasion of the second annual OU Associates Dinner on March 21, 1980.*

*Through August 9, 1979

A Winning Tradition

Something special happens when the Big Red football squad heads down the ramp and sprints to the Sooner side of Owen field. Loyal fans of all ages and occupations suddenly jump to their feet and join with thousands of others to sing "Boomer Sooner" and to cry "Go Get'em Big Red!"

It's just part of a proud tradition built over the years at the University of Oklahoma — a tradition of winning. Oklahoma City's Globe Life, a winner in its own right, salutes the University of Oklahoma. Go Get'em Big Red!

Women's Athletics

Don Jimerson has assumed responsibility for the women athletes at the University of Oklahoma. He was appointed to that position on an interim basis in June. A graduate of Central State University, Jimerson joined the Sooner staff in 1967 and has served as a football coach and assistant athletic director for the Sooners.

Penny Schnell has the responsibility of keeping the Sooner women athletes healthy. She is entering her third year as the head women's trainer. She came to Oklahoma from the University of Delaware where she had served as a student trainer for two years.

Publicity for the women's program is the responsibility of Debbie Copp, a 1978 OU journalism graduate. Copp began working with the Sooners in February of 1975 as a student assistant in the Sports Information Office. She was named as the women's sports information director in August of 1977.

The Sooner coaching staff is a diverse group. A former Olympian, Miles Pabst, came to the Sooner state from the West Coast in 1978 to head the volleyball program. A native Oklahoman, Sooner softball coach Marita Hynes graduated from Central State. She is entering her fourth year with the Sooner staff.

Three of the women's coaches have been at OU before as coaches or athletes. A Big Eight swimming champion, Mike Burt returned to OU in 1975 as the head women's swim coach. Sooner track coach J. D. Martin joined the staff in 1964 as the men's track coach. He began working with the women in 1977. A standout athlete as an undergraduate, Martin was a Big Eight and NCAA champion in the pole vault.

Doyle Parrack is entering his second year as the head women's basketball coach. He coached the men's basketball team at OU during the 1950's and his 1959 Sooner team finished second in the Big Eight.

Rounding out the Sooner staff are Randy Sontheimer, tennis coach, Paul Ziert, gymnastics coach, and golf coach Joan Blumenthal. Sontheimer joined the Sooner staff in January of 1975. He is a graduate of OU with a bachelor's degree in environmental design and a master's degree in architecture. A familiar name in Oklahoma amateur golf circles, Blumenthal joined the Sooner staff in the fall of 1975.

Paul Ziert became the head women's gymnastics coach at OU in the fall of 1979. He came to OU as the men's gymnastics coach in 1973.

THE FIRST CHEVY OF THE '80s. CITATION. OUR MOST SUCCESSFUL NEW CAR EVER.

Ever since its introduction, people have been flooding Chevy showrooms across the country to see the 1980 Chevy Citation. And according to Retail Delivery Reports, 33,765 units were sold in its first three weeks, more than any new entry Chevrolet has ever introduced.

MID-SIZE ROOM FOR 5.

Citation's engine is mounted sideways, so the passenger compartment can be bigger. In fact, in EPA interior dimensions, Citation is classified as a mid-size car. With the back seat folded down there's room enough for two adults in front and 30 bags of groceries in back.

0 TO 50 IN 9 SECONDS FLAT WITH THE AVAILABLE V6.

In engineering tests, Citation goes from 0 to 50 in 9 seconds flat. That's with available 2.8 Liter V6 engine and automatic transmission. California figures not available. (Citation is equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.)

EASY ON GAS. 24 EPA ESTIMATED MPG. 38 HIGHWAY ESTIMATE.

That's with Citation's standard 2.5 Liter 4-cylinder engine and manual transmission. (Manual transmission currently not available in California. Calif. estimates lower.)

Citation's standard 4-speed transmission is made to conserve gas. It's an overdrive. And at cruising speeds the 4th gear lets the engine run slower than with a conventional transmission, helping to get impressive fuel economy.

IMPRESSIVE LONG-RANGE CRUISING ESTIMATES, TOO.

And Citation's long-range cruising estimates are just as impressive. 336 miles based on EPA estimated MPG (city) mileage figures, and 532 miles based on estimated highway MPG. Range figures obtained by multiplying Citation's 14-gallon fuel tank capacity rating by the EPA mileage estimates.

REMEMBER: Compare the circled estimated MPG to the estimated MPG of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on your speed, trip length and weather. Your actual city mileage and range will be less in heavy city traffic. Your actual mileage will probably be less than the highway estimate.

YOU'VE GOT TO DRIVE IT TO BELIEVE IT.

When you drive Citation you'll see what all the excitement is about. The way it feels. The way it maneuvers. The way it rides. And Citation's front wheel drive puts approximately 65% of its weight over the "driving wheels" to give you impressive traction on wet or snowy roads.

IT'S A WHOLE NEW KIND OF COMPACT CAR.

There's still a lot about Citation that we haven't mentioned. Like slip stream design to cut down on wind resistance and wind noise. The hidden cargo area in all hatchback models, so what's inside is protected from view. A dual diagonal braking system. And much, much more. That's why we encourage you to see your Chevy dealer and test drive the 1980 Chevy Citation today. This could be the car you've had in mind.

Scholarship Fund Established For Long-Time Sooner Head Trainer

The Late Ken Rawlinson

The University of Oklahoma Athletic Department, in conjunction with the University of Oklahoma Foundation, has announced the formation of a scholarship fund for student trainers in memory of long-time Sooner head trainer Ken Rawlinson, who died in February, 1979.

The Ken Rawlinson Scholarship Fund for student athletic trainers has been established by the OU Athletic Department and the Rawlinson family as a tribute to the man who served as head athletic trainer for Sooner teams for 26 years. Proceeds from the trust fund will be used to underwrite scholarships for student trainers at OU each year. Recipients will be selected by the head trainer and approved by the University of Oklahoma Athletic Director.

Rawlinson came to Oklahoma in February of 1953 from Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., where he was head trainer from 1947-53. Rawlinson also coached the Sooner swim team to a 1955 Big Seven Conference championship.

But it was as a trainer that Rawlinson gained the most fame. Considered one of the best in the nation, Rawlinson served as head trainer for the U.S. Olympic team in the 1960 Olympics and was inducted into the Helms Foundation Trainers National Hall of Fame in 1968. He was president of the National Athletic Trainers' Association and was named the Rockne Club Trainer of the Year in 1959. Perhaps, however, his most treasured award was the 1977 Russell R. Myers Award from the Association of University of Oklahoma Professional Employees for his dedication to the University, job performance and community service.

OU Athletic Director Wade Walker spoke for the entire department when he said of Ken: "You can't describe how much this man meant to our department. Everyone had a great love for him. He was a legend. It's people like Ken who have devoted almost all of their lives to our department, that make it so great. The OU Athletic Department is highly supportive of this fund."

One of the persons most intimately involved in the formation of the fund is Ken's son Gary, a Norman attorney. "The education of student trainers is something my father always felt deeply about. He got his start as a student trainer at the University of Illinois and always felt the need to help students in his program. He knew the program was beneficial to him. Also, it is a nice way to remember him," Rawlinson concluded. Ken served as a student trainer at the University of Illinois from 1932-36.

Ron Burton, director of the University of Oklahoma Foundation, echoed Gary's sentiments. "In my mind," Burton said, "this fund should encourage and insure the fine quality of athletic trainers for which OU has been known. This is something Ken would be proud of as his memorial. It makes a lot more sense than bricks and mortar. The scholarship fund will last forever."

Dan Pickett, who served Ken as a student and a full-time assistant, was named Ken's successor on June 1, 1979. Pickett cares deeply about the scholarship fund, not only because of the tribute to Ken but because he knows the value of the student trainer program.

"In terms of the scholarship," Pickett said, "there can be no finer tribute to Ken from those who admired him and knew his work. Trainers have to work from August to May, for every sport. My goal is to have full, four-year scholarships for all my trainers."

Pickett explained that members of the OU Athletic Department and members of the OU Touchdown Club are encouraging participation in the fund.

Persons wishing to take part in the Ken Rawlinson Memorial Scholarship Fund can do so by sending their donation to: University of Oklahoma Foundation, 660 Parrington Oval, Norman OK 73019. All donations must be earmarked for the Ken Rawlinson Scholarship Fund.

MEET THE FACULTY

DR. ANTONIO NAVARRETE

By RON ROBINSON

The many roles in Antonio Navarrete's life — physician, professor, community activist, educational counselor — were visible during a single 90-minute interview.

The first question had just been asked when his telephone rang.

A man who had immigrated to Lawton from Mexico was concerned about his teen-age daughter's health. She had gone to Mexico to study and was afflicted with infectious hepatitis, forcing her return to Oklahoma. The father apparently was dissatisfied with the physician treating her. He wanted advice from Navarrete.

Navarrete, a surgical pathologist with the OU Health Sciences Center in Oklahoma City, listened sympathetically to the story. Speaking partly in Spanish, he explained the nature of the disease and the ethics of the medical profession regarding second opinions. His comments apparently helped the father because they ended the conversation joking about this and that.

Calls like this are not uncommon to Navarrete, one of the few Mexican-American physicians in the state. Because he knows the language and culture, many Spanish-speaking people feel more comfortable talking to him than to Anglo physicians.

Navarrete said the Lawton man's concern illustrates the need for bilingual interpreters in the state's hospitals and other community services. He said he often is called upon to perform such duties.

Though he knows such a service could be expensive, he said no studies have been done to learn how many people could benefit from it. He added the Hispanic community is not as small as many people apparently believe; some 20,000 live in Oklahoma City and more than 100,000 live in the state.

"It's not enough to have someone on the staff who can speak the language," he said. "You need someone who understands the culture. All I have to do is ask patients where they are from and then I tell them where I am from and everyone is okay after that."

He said the most severe problems of this type are faced by those who have immigrated here from Mexico, legally or otherwise.

"We who are professionals and have gone through this (adjusting to a new language and culture) have a responsibility, an obligation to help them. And we have to go to them and offer our help; we can't expect them to come to us," he said.

Going to the community is what Navarrete has done during his five years at the HSC.

Recently, most of his community activity has involved developing a corps of people in the state's largest Hispanic communities — Lawton, Altus and Frederick — to encourage students to graduate from high school and get a higher education, particularly those interested in the health sciences.

Since spring, Navarrete has visited Lawton several times and held meetings in Altus and Frederick. He also has appeared on local Spanish-speaking radio stations to talk about how to keep students in school.

On these trips, he takes Latin-American OU students who speak with parents, students and community leaders about their own educational route. Navarrete is aided by the Governor's Advisory Council for Spanish-American Relations.

He is near ecstatic about the enthusiastic reception he has received in all communities, from Anglos as well as Hispanics.

Some previous recruitment and counseling efforts of his already are paying off: College students he worked with have entered OU's medical school, and some high school students were accepted into the HSC's Career Opportunities in the Health Sciences Program this past summer.

Navarrete's own experience has given him personal insight into problems faced by Mexican immigrants.

He grew up in a small town near the Texas border. From the age of 11, he had dreamed of being either a physician or a cavalry officer. The latter was his first profession.

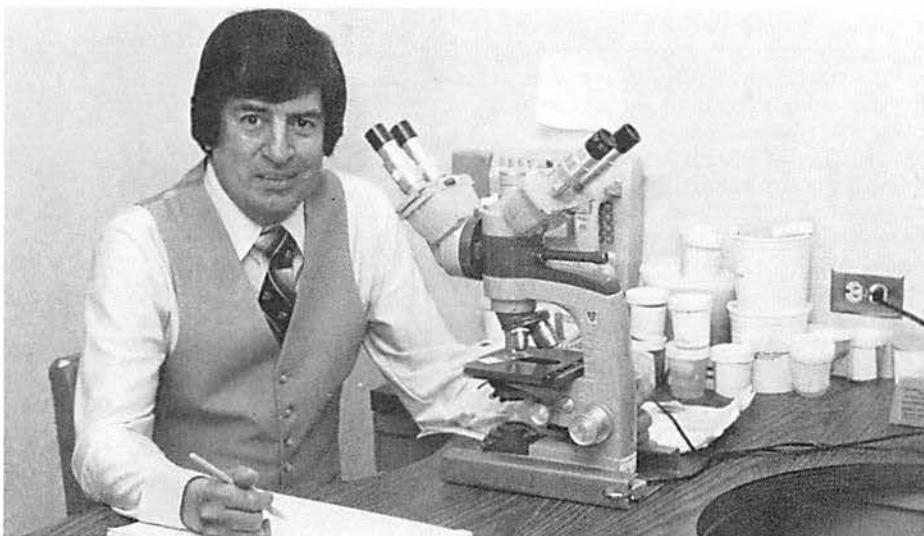

Navarrete attended the "West Point" of Mexico, a military academy that trained him as a cavalry officer. However, he had an accident and nearly lost his leg. During his lengthy stay in the hospital, he decided to pursue his other interest — medicine.

He attended the medical schools of Monterey and the National University in Mexico City, graduating from the latter in 1958. He came from a lower-middle class family, but said professional schools in Mexico are fairly inexpensive so most people could afford them. After receiving his M.D., Navarrete decided to come to the United States where he could receive the best residency training and then return to Mexico to teach.

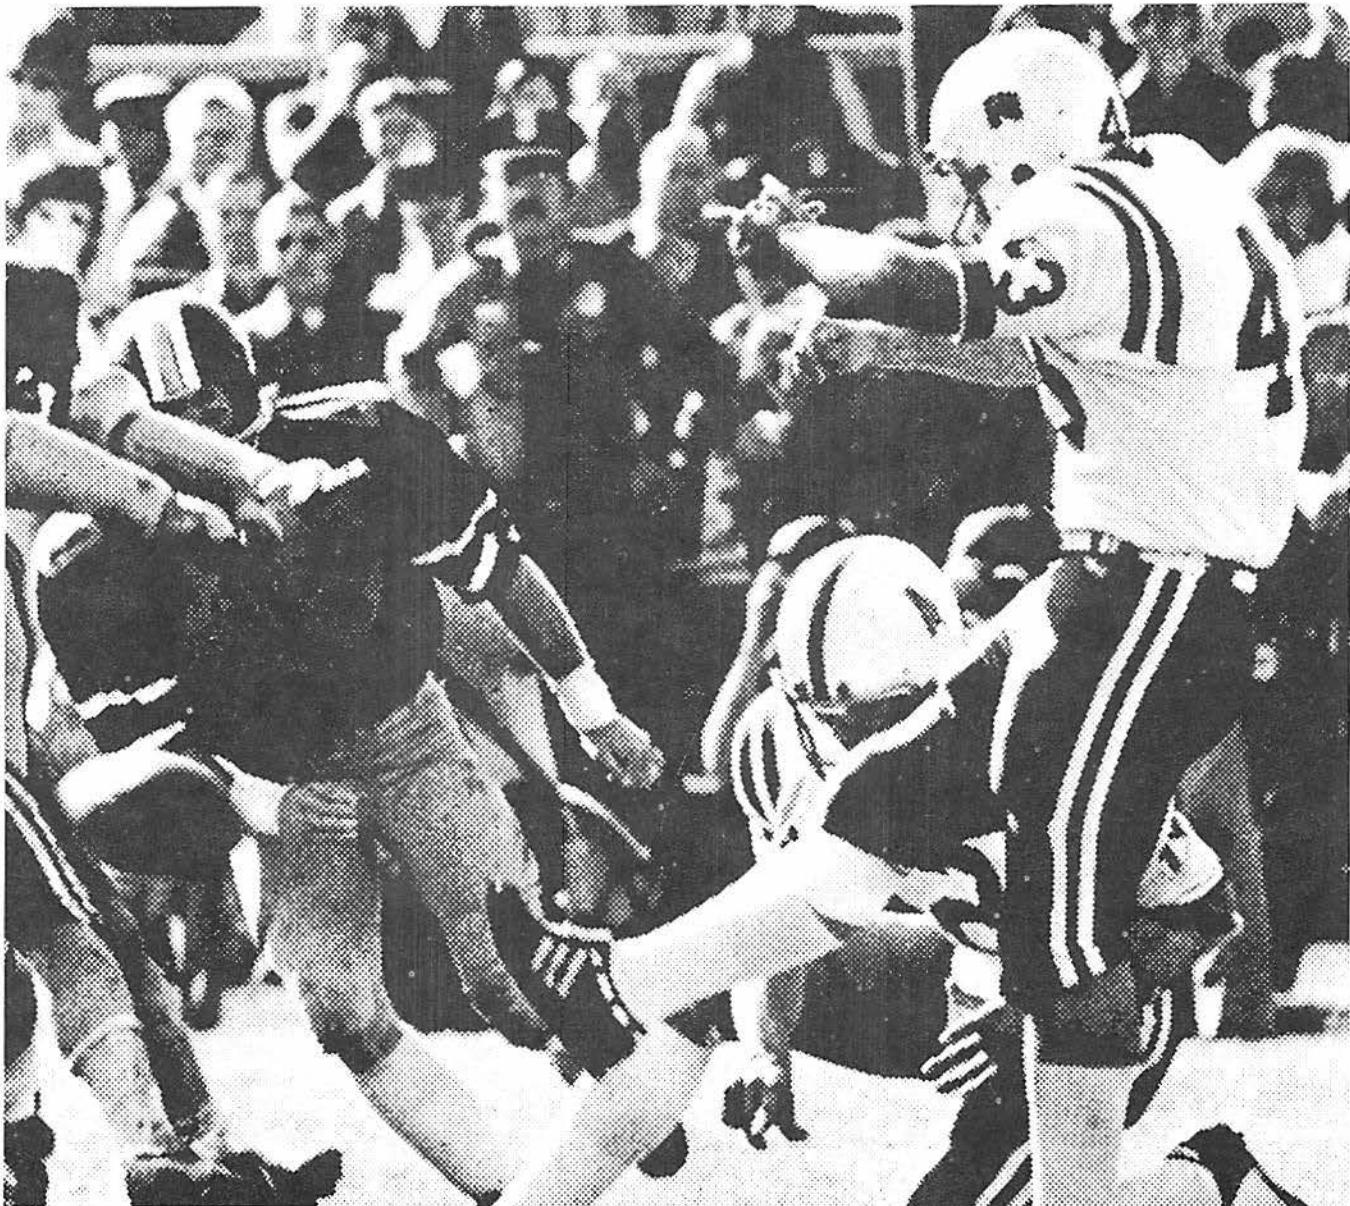

Language was his first and biggest problem in adjusting to American life and the American medical world. At first, he had to point to whatever he wanted, such as a surgical tray.

He did residency training in San Antonio, St. Louis and Houston. After he finished in 1968, he decided to go back to Mexico as planned. However, once there, he discovered the economy couldn't adequately support his medical specialty. So, he returned to this country.

Following his tenure at the University of Texas in San Antonio, Navarrete accepted a position with the OU Health Sciences Center in 1974. His wife is completing requirements to become a bilingual teacher.

DURING A LENGTHY STAY in the hospital, caused by an accident that nearly cost him a leg, Antonio Navarrete decided to pursue a career in medicine. The native of Mexico currently is a surgical pathologist with the OU Health Sciences Center.

STADIUM EXPANSION PROGRAM

These loyal individuals, families, companies and organizations have provided the vehicle whereby 10,000 more persons per football game are able to see the fabulous OKLAHOMA SOONERS play football.

We salute and thank each and every one for their pledge and financial support, which made the new deck and related improvements a reality . . .

BASKETBALL

As the Sooners enter the 1979-80 season, gone are John McCullough and Cary Carrabine, the number three and number eleven all-time OU career scorers. They both arrived at Oklahoma as part of Sooner head coach Dave Bliss's first recruiting class, and they both played vital roles in the building of OU's program into their first Big Eight championship. McCullough was voted the league's Most Valuable Player and Carrabine in his four years, proved to be one of the Big Eight's most consistent players.

Despite the loss of McCullough and Carrabine, the Sooners return four starters from last season's 21-10 team. Oklahoma coach Dave Bliss, who will begin his fifth season in 1979-80, believes the Sooners will be improved.

"Last season rebounding and overall team quickness were two major weaknesses for us," says Bliss. "I feel that we will get some immediate help in the rebounding area from 6'7" junior Steve Bajema, a transfer from the University of Denver and Cherry Creek, Colorado. Les Pace, a 6'7" sophomore from Wichita, Kansas, and Greg Jones, a 6'6" sophomore from Plainfield, Indiana. If Les and Greg continue to improve as Les did at the end of the season and throughout the spring and as Greg did prior to his injury, I expect both of them to contend for starting positions. Their increased playing time will automatically help make us a better rebounding team. However, I'm also hopeful that we will see improvement in that area in all of our returning personnel. We must improve our rebounding at every position because we cannot expect Al Beal to carry the rebounding load again this season.

"As far as our overall team quickness is concerned, I believe that we have improved that area tremendously with our recruiting," says Bliss. "Chuck Barnett, a 6'4" freshman from Indianapolis, Indiana, and Bennie Goldwire, a 6'3", 175 pound junior from Miami-Dade South Community College are two players whose quickness will enable us to play at a quicker pace overall, but more importantly on defense, they will allow us to do a lot more things than we have been able to do in the past."

No doubt the most notable of the Sooners' eight returning lettermen are Al Beal, Terry Stotts, Aaron Curry, and Raymond Whitley. These four returning starters were responsible for 65 percent of the Sooners' offense last season while supplying 74 percent of the rebounding muscle.

Both Al Beal and Raymond Whitley finished the season on a strong note. Beal led the team in rebounding and blocked shots and was the third leading scorer with a 12.5 average. Whitley led the Sooners in assists and steals while averaging 11 points per game. Al and Raymond were both selected to the post-season all-tournament team with Beal being chosen as the tournament MVP. Whitley was also selected to the NCAA Midwest Regional All-Tournament team.

Two other keys for Oklahoma are Terry Stotts and Aaron Curry. Stotts emerged last season finishing the campaign as the team's number two scorer with a 14.5 average and number two rebounder at 5.7. Curry, even though getting off to a slow start, played extremely well during conference play finishing the season with a 10 point per game average.

"There is no doubt that among these people there is the potential for further success," says Bliss. "Both as a group and as individuals, however, these four must continue to improve. We cannot allow ourselves to fall into the trap of two years ago."

Add prep signees Bo Overton, a 6'2" guard whom Coach Bliss is counting on to lend a great deal of the stability that the Sooners have benefited from the last four years with Cary Carrabine, plus Rick Moorhead, a 6'5" hard-nosed swing player from Shelbyville, Indiana, and that's what Coach Bliss has to architect Oklahoma's continued surge to even bigger firsts in 1979-80."

THIS YEAR 2000 FOOTBALL COACHES WILL AGREE ON ONE THING:

THE KODAK ALL-AMERICA FOOTBALL TEAM

At the end of this season, the American Football Coaches Association will agree on 22 college football players who are representative of the best in the nation. For these young men, it will be an unequalled honor to be recognized by the men who know the game best—the coaches. There are many All-American football teams. There is only one selected by the college football coaches. The 1979 Kodak All-America

Football Team. Watch for it.

SPORT YOUR COLORS IN OKLAHOMA FANS VANS!

Imagine pulling into a Sooners home game behind the wheel of your University of Oklahoma FANS VAN. It's a bright crimson van with white rocker panels and side stripes, plus lettering in the rocker panels reading "Sooners". It is also available in white with red trim. A custom-designed spare tire cover on the back completes the FANS VANS package.

Inside, the most sophisticated, luxurious interior you'll ever see in a custom van. Plush velour upholstery. Teak wood trim and solid teak pedestal table. Fabric ceiling and wall liners. Plush shag carpeting.

Oklahoma FANS VANS sport our rich, carmine interior. Earthy Buckskin or silver with burgundy trim interiors are also available. Or you can order your Oklahoma FANS VAN with a real leather interior, at extra cost.

And to complete the FANS VANS treatment, the official seal of the University of Oklahoma has been engraved in a copper medallion and inset into the teak table.

What a way to sport your colors! What a way to show your school spirit! And what a great way to enjoy weekend home games, tailgate parties and Sooner victory celebrations.

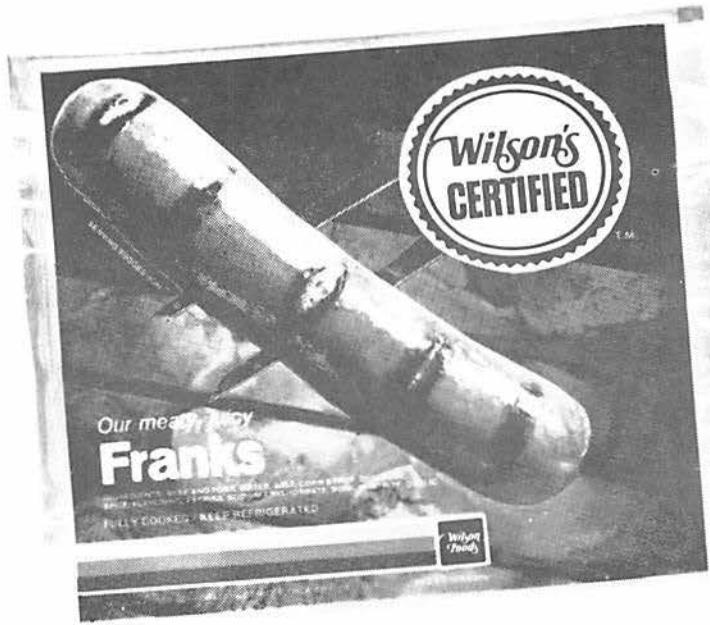

ALSO AVAILABLE: FANS VANS models for all Big Eight Conference Schools, all Southwest Conference schools, all Big Ten schools, Oklahoma City and many more.

See your local Chevrolet or G.M.C. Truck Dealer for details.

No endorsement by the University of Oklahoma is either expressed nor implied.

For conservation's sake... inspect your house for energy leaks

The drip-drip of a leaky faucet, dirty filters in your heating and cooling equipment, and clogged lint traps in your clothes dryer all waste energy. That's money from your pocket right out the window!

And it's also important to give the outside of your home an energy check. Adequate insulation, weatherstripping, caulking, and storm doors and windows also help keep your energy — and your money — inside where it counts.

There are other ways to conserve and make your energy go further. And at Oklahoma Natural, we think it's important that you are aware of each and every one of them. It's never too late to correct the inefficient use of energy. Paid for by the ratepayers of Oklahoma Natural Gas.
